they are now inserted. Senator Lewis, I realize that not too much may have been done with this. Some has been taken out and some put back in. When we get through here we had better have a constitutional bill and we had better have one that doesn't go over to Final Reading and lose this. I think that the budget bills were worked over good enough so that the Community Colleges are out of the budget bill. If we don't have a bill here now, that is acceptable, I don't know where we were going to go, so what is one day? I would suggest that the bill be reprinted with the amendments as we finish up today and that we take a good look at it and be certain that we work on it tomorrow afternoon or such time as when we get a good chance to look at it because gentlemen, and ladies, I'm going to tell you something. The budget bills don't have any funding in them any more. This is the bill that is going to be necessary.

PRESIDENT: Senator Kelly do you wish to speak to the Goodrich motion?

SENATOR KELLY: Mr. President, colleagues, next to 610 344 is carried as many amendments on and off as any bill that we have had. I believe that we all do understand and I believe that we have all had our input. We have won and lost and compromised. We have done just about everything with 344 that a piece of legislation can have happen to it. There is really nothing, in my opinion, no more delay necessary. Now if we don't understand it, I don't see what were talking about 3 hours delay is going to get any more knowledge in our minds of what is in 344. I would oppose the bracketing.

SPEAKER: Senator Dworak, do you wish to speak on the Goodrich....

SENATOR DWORAK: Mr. President, I would hope that we would reject the Goodrich amendment and adopt the Warner amendment. I think the fact that we have discussed this bill for as much as we have and gone back and forth and come to an agreement and there has been no compromise, there has been no spirit of compromise. The bill is exactly as it came out of committee. All of the amendments were put on have been taken off today. Any attempt to endeavor to compromise has been lost. This is not a compromised matter. This is a bill that we looked at initially and hasn't changed one bit. I think that the bill by the debate and the discussion and by the confusion of the two sections of the funding and whether it is a sinking fund or a general obligation bond in itself indicates that the people do not understand the bill. They do not know what is in the bill. The bill has to be reworked and worded more clearly than it has been. I would hope that we would reject the Goodrich amendment and support the Warner amendment and look at this thing consciously over the interim and come back next session with a good bill.

SPEAKER: Senator Savage do you wish to speak to the Goodrich motion? Senator Stull.
